Huh?

Your service lists that we fill out twice a year is for generic notification.

Predicted on your email how are we suppose to be notified of filings in dockets? As it is NOT uncommon that requests are filed BEFORE the ten day notice.

One of these was mentioned in comments from Wednesday.

Also, after reading your link, you DO realize some people will have no clue what a pleading format is. This codification from what I can extrapolate is a barrier to engage the public regarding participation. Why don't you at least provide an example for the public?

This blanket assumption of such knowledge needs to be remediated.

Making 'comments' prior to reading all parties submissions will result in ANOTHER filing that is not beneficial but time consuming for the public and your office, reading thru another filing prior to posting. As you keep complaining about being under staffed/overloaded, now you are increasing said workload. If your response states it is not a burden, any attempts to claim down the road about being burdened will come back to this.

These subtle barriers to public engagement will be met with public notification.

Ms. De Fazio,

Our regulations have changed regarding commenters and a notice of intent to participate as a commenter is no longer required to be submitted prior to filing comments in a docket. These changes to NAC 703.491 were made in Docket 12-02013 and have since been codified. Below is the link to our webpage outlining the updated requirements to participate as a commenter. As such, the 6 electronic filings titled "Request to be a Commenter" submitted on behalf of yourself, NTEF, NVESSM, PUC Watch Dogs, and Mr. Fred Voltz will not be processed in the docket. However, the requests to be added to the service list for this docket will be processed accordingly.
